

Ownership and Organizational Structure

The Company’s organizational structure comprises the General Assembly and the Board of Directors (the “Board of Directors” or the “Board”) together with the committees of the Board, i.e., the Audit Committee, the Nomination and Remuneration Committee and the Executive Committee. Such committees assume the powers delegated thereto by the Board in accordance with the Company’s corporate governance rules. The Board is ultimately responsible for direction, general supervision and general control of the Company and the Senior Management of the Company. The following chart sets out the organizational structure of the Company:

Exhibit (5.1): The organizational structure of the Company as at the date of this Prospectus

